

Adaptation behaviours observed among private actors in semi-arid lands

Incorporating new forms of knowledge into decision-making processes

Livelihood diversification, intensification and switching between activities, within and outside of agriculture

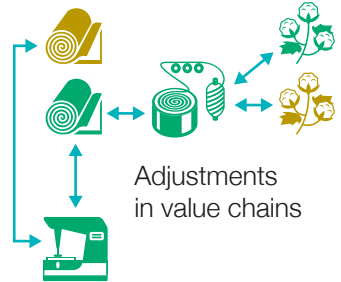

Taking out a loan

Farm-level adaptation strategies

Selling business assets and scaling down production and enterprise activities to manage risk

Migration of pastoralist herds

Seasonal and permanent rural-to-urban and rural-to-rural human migration and the sending of remittances

